KIND + BODY

The Freshest Brand in revolutionary Spa Treatments

Kind + Body is a product series by Foresight Creative Group, LLC owned and operated by Evan Forsythe and Kellan Lutz. Key features include-

1. One of the first all organic Hemp Oil based high end Spa Collections
2. The use of Patented Technology in manufacturing for a superior and all natural product
3. US made and produced Hemp blended with nourishing elements

OUR PRODUCTS:

Our Kind + Body spa products are made with commercial grown hemp and certifications from the department of Agriculture. Each one of our products are hand made and come with a guarantee to relax and calm your senses. With spa products that include bath bombs, bath salts, foot scrubs, and spa oils, we strive to relax and pamper our customers with the best products and ingredients available to the public.

As the age of holistic medicine grows, using ingredients such as essential and nano-particle based minerals and elements is key. Using state of the art technology and patented processes, we formulate our products at a molecular level giving us the best bio absorption available with todays manufacturing practices. With elements coming from ancient practices, Kind + Body accentuates well known elements with todays advanced technology.

"Kind + Body spa products aren't just a line of goods. They are a lifestyle derived from craft ingredients, specifically designed to give the customer the most luxurious experience possible."

ABOUT THE OWNERS

Evan Forsythe

Evan Forsythe is a managing partner of Foresight Creative Group. A product development company that develops products for niche markets.

1. Evan has backgrounds in Science, Business, and Entrepreneurship
2. Evan consults in commercial hemp and owns 4 companies in the industry.
3. Evan leads the innovation team to create all original products

EVAN'S ROLE

Evan Forsythe serves as the founder and managing partner of Foresight Creative Group. FCG was founded as a product development company which creates signature consumer product lines and patented consumer technology products. Evan Forsythe has consulted in the hemp industry for over 7 years and has brought his knowledge of product design, formulation, botanical chemistry and manufacturing to the Kind + Body line of products. As a pioneer of the hemp industry, in 2013 he built one of the first state of the art commercial hemp farming and manufacturing/processing facilities. Additionally, Forsythe has served as the lead consultant to some of the first publicly traded hemp companies. He has paved the way for regulatory action, governmentally approved policy and product research in the efficacy of consumer facing hemp products.

Kind + Body is one of the first hemp product lines to combine state of the art micro technology and spa level luxury.

"Hemp has been a passion of mine since I first saw the benefits of its healing nature. Launching Kind + Body wasn't just a choice, it just made sense."-Evan Forsythe

ABOUT THE OWNERS

Kellan Lutz

Kellan Lutz is a well-known actor and celebrity known for his work in The Twilight Saga, numerous romantic comedies and countless action films opposite Hollywood greats including Bruce Willis and Sylvester Stallone. Kellan has also graced the covers and pages of numerous men's fashion magazines including GQ, Esquire, Nylon, Cosmopolitan and Mens Health. In addition Kellan has also made a name for himself as a successful entrepreneur creating the men's and women's fashion brand Abbott & Main which was one of the top-selling brands at retailers including Nordstrom, Bloomingdales, Fred Segal, Kitson and many more. Kellan and Foresight Creative Group have also developed many top-selling products that are now seen in major retailers and duty-free shops around the world.

1. Kellan founded the successful clothing line Abbot + Main in 2011
2. Kellan founded Foresight Creative Group to launch products in 2013
3. Kellan has a background in biochemistry used in company product development

KELLAN'S ROLE

As both an actor, athlete and entrepreneur Kellan is used to the rigors of intense schedules, constant travel and cameras being up close and personal. Because of this, he needed a way to keep his skin supple and flawless while still looking natural. He was introduced to the wellness and beauty benefits of hemp oil and began to work with Forsythe Creative on the development of a unisex health and beauty spa brand. The end result is Kind + Body. His passion was to create an alternative to heavy chemicals and laboratory derived ingredients and to use a natural and holistic approach to mind and body health and healing.
